

Rhonda Cao

Rhonda Cao originally studied sculpting at the Queensland College of Art and later diverted to a career in illustration and graphic design. She returned to her first love of sculpting several years ago.

Rhonda enjoys using a variety of materials, such as clay, glass, bronze, hebel and crystal, and developing complex and rhythmic shapes based on the form and movement of the human figure. Her figurines often evolve in a very expressive and joyful way, for example, her Tom, Dick and Harry male series and her Beach Babe series.
