

Jude Roberts

The impetus of Jude Roberts' work comes from personal experiences and circumstance, of family stories of breath, oxygen, salvage, and resilience. Drawn from the human figure and the natural world, often these two conjoin as there are rhythms and pulses that resonate with the breath of the human body as well as in these land/seascapes. There are moments of stillness, silence and vast spaces like voids, as in death and the last breath.

In Jude's own words: "The works seek the experiences of life and the impermanence and fragility of our human existence".
